The collapse of the deal between the Grace i mocrais and Tammany Hall, the alm of which was to secure a local vicket upon which both factions could unite, is one of the surprising and unexpected developments of the State Democracy's County Convention.

Up to a late hour vesterdny afternoon it was believed on all sides that William R. Grace would get the nomination for Mayor, and that his candidacy would receive the indorsement of Tammany Hall in accordance with the programme which, as every one supposed, had been arranged among the leaders of the State Democracy.

which, as every one supposed, had been arranged among the leaders of the State Democracy.

The change of plan, however, by which the ticket of the Committee of Seventy is practically indorsed, was, it appears, decided upon only at the very last moment.

By the action of the Convention it is evident that all prospect of a combination of the Grace forces and the Wigswamites is at an end, on local offices at least, and that Tammany will have to fight the battle to retain its supremacy alone. The Republican County Convention has already indorsed W. L. Strong for Mayor and John W. Goff for Recorder, but has left open the other places on the ticket, and the general understanding has been that it proposed to lay claim to further recognition in case a union ticket should be decided upon. The alternative, of course, would be a straight Republicans would have a good chance to win. The Causes which led to the break in the ranks of the State Democracy and the upsetting of the deal with Tammany are somewhat obscure as yet, but from the statement made in the Convention of the Convention of the Convention is is provided the state of the State Democracy and the upsetting of the deal with Tammany are somewhat obscure as yet, but from the statement made in the Convention of the State Democracy and the upsetting of the deal with Tammany are somewhat obscure as yet, but from the statement made in the Convention of the Convention is is provided the subscitute Committee would remain in session until the Executive Committee would remain in session until the Executive Committee would remain in session until the Second District.

The Tammany Hall Democracy, now that there is no longer any hope of making a deal with the Grace Democracy, has decided to hold its County Convention to-night.

night and put a ticket in the field with out further loss of time. A meeting of Mayor Gilroy's Advisory committee of Eight was held at Tammany Hall this morning. Mayor Gilroy and his eight looked anything but happy. They recognized the fact that the action of the State Democracy last night left them no alternative but to go it alone, and the most sanguine of them would not say that Tammany had a prospect of winning against a combination of all the anti-Tammany forces, such as now seems certain. When the Mayor was asked his opinion of the outlook, he said:

would not say a word for publication. One of them gave out an intimation that the deal which was planned between Tammany and the State Democracy had been declared off because Tammany refused to let Grace name the candidate for Mayor on a deal ticket. The heelers who dropped into Tammany Hall during the morning were even more sad looking than the leaders. They denounced the State Democrats bitterly, and declared that Grace would be responsible for a Republican Gover nor and Legislature. Mayor Gilroy came out of the meeting for a moment, and remarked to the reporters that Tammany's County Convention would surely be held to-night and After noon news came out of the around about 10 o'clock, looked glum. over a Mayoralty candidate was still in progress, and that these names were Robert McClave, Andrew H. Green, it, either, Nathan Straus, Theodore W. Myers Postmaster Charles W. Dayton.

Mayor Gilroy was in communication with several of these gentlemen by telephone, but he would give no intimation as to which one was likely to be chosen, The district leaders who gathered at the hall to get the latest news were generally agreed about the rest of the ticket, excepting the Coroners. They thought it would be made up as fol-
